

Andreas Christodoulidis

With a constant presence in aviation events, an unquenchable passion for airplanes, a constant feeling of offering and helping the economy of the aviation sector, after 38 years in London, Mr. Christodoulidis came to Greece. His decision was to continue offering his services with knowledge and professionalism, maintaining a global network of partners and covering aviation needs in aircraft charters, ACMI and charter, both in Greece and abroad.