

Dimitris Goris

He was born in Ellassona and grew up in Germany, where he completed his curricular studies in German Schools. At the same time, he was taught the Greek language at the Evening Greek High School of Hannover. In Germany he continued his studies in Economics and Business Administration in Neustadt. He specialized in negotiation techniques at the European University.

He has attended numerous educational programs in Greece and Germany regarding journalism, Business Administration, sales and finance. For about a decade he developed business activities both in Germany and in Greece.

In 1999, he became Editor-in-Chief at Who is Who in Germany. In 2003 he was appointed Financial Consultant and Head of Consultant Group at Finax Finanzplanung GmbH in Hannover, Germany. In 2005, he founded and managed the financial company THEMELIA in Germany.

In 2007, he founded and took over the General Management in Greece of the company NEW WHO IS WHO, which publishes the original and collectible Encyclopedia of biographies of prominent Greeks, on an annual basis, officially securing the Franchise for Greece & Cyprus from the Swiss Publishing House. Today the operation of the company is now autonomous and there are constant discussions about expansions to other states as well. He also launched the Special Edition of World Women Leaders Who is Who in Greece.

At the same time, he is the Founder of the online magazine "Emeis" as well as the Inspirer, Co-Founder and Shareholder of the largest medical online platform iatros-online.gr. In 2009 he was awarded the title of SENATOR by the European Board of Trade in Brussels. Since 2019 he is the President of the Who is Who International Awards which are held every year with great success in Greece. He is bilingual, fluent in both Greek and German.